

PHILADELPHIA CEILI GROUP TAPE ARCHIVES

ABSTRACT:

The tape archives of the Philadelphia Ceili Group are significant in their documentation of traditional Irish and Irish American music. Performers include prominent members of the musical profession in Ireland and America. In addition to providing information on how such music is performed through the recording of concerts and festivals, the tapes of workshops and concerts document the connections between music in the old country and the new, and the development and transformation of traditional Irish playing styles in the transfer to the United States. The lectures given by historians and folklorists shed light on the history of the Irish in Ireland and America as well as on particular aspects of Irish culture.

RECORD AND SERIES DESCRIPTIONS:

The tapes are arranged chronologically and span the years 1977 – 1996. They are divided into two series. Series I consists of audio cassettes (60 and 90 minutes). Series II consists of video cassettes (120 minute VHS). The tapes include formal concerts, lectures sponsored by the group both individually and as parts of lecture or cultural series, and recordings made at music workshops and festivals organized by the group. Performers include both native Irish and Irish Americans, and they present a variety of musical styles. A title and artist, performer or lecturer is given where possible.

There are several codes related to the tape number in the index. The explanation is as follows:

Example: PCG 79-12 FC

PCG - Philadelphia Ceili Group

Two numbers - Year tape was made, i.e., 79=1979, 80=1980, etc.

One or two numbers - tape number of that year

Final letter or letters - Indexing code

Letter Indexing Codes:

C - Concert

L - Lecture

W - Workshop

FW - Festival Workshop

FC - Festival Concert

LC - A concert taking place within a lecture series

From example above, the tape was made in 1979, the 12th of that year, and the contents are a fall festival concert tape.

- Originally prepared by Robin Hiteshaw, former President and chairman of the Archives Committee of the Philadelphia Ceili Group.
